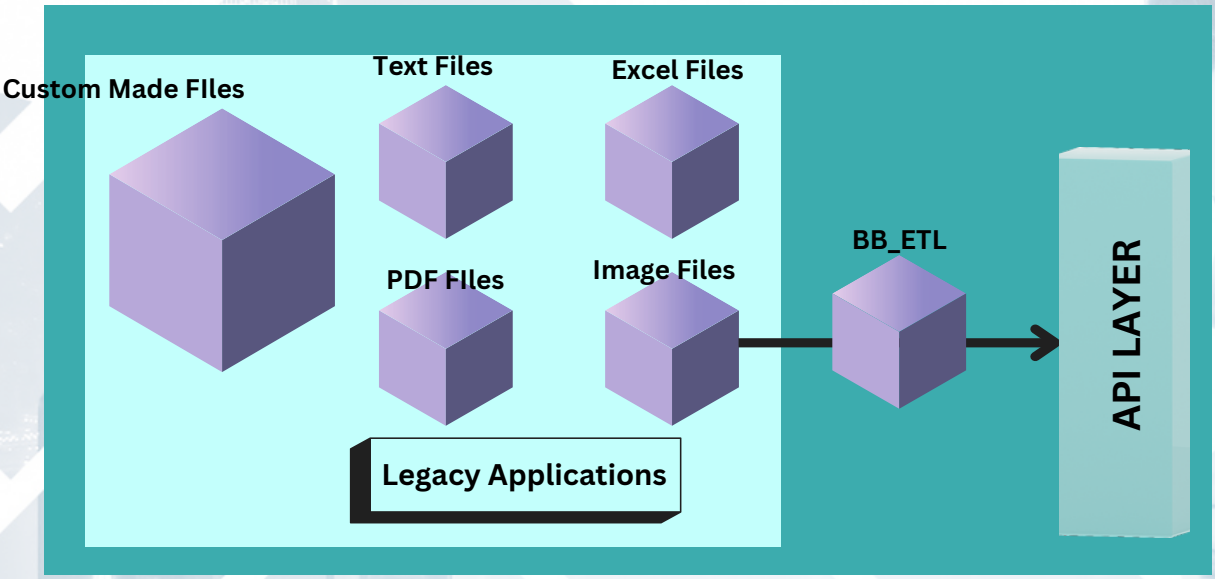
DATACOM

A 360-degree Data Mining & Distribution Platform



BDC is a data mining and communication platform enables;

STEP 01

The clients map their data stores whether it be an RDBMS database or any other form of the traditional data file set.

STEP 02

Then clients capture the source data formulas and the destination data requirement formulas and rules for the data to be manipulated in between the source and the destinations in the form of well-structured dataframes.

STEP 03

The data is communicated in the form of file/API response/through a staging Database direct update

STEP 04

The data is communicated either scheduled or real-time fashion
